MANY DEATHS ARE REPORTED FROM COLD
IN MANY NATIONS

COLDEST WEATHER IN SIXTY YEARS REGISTERED PARTS OF EUROPE

LONDON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Ice and snow stretched today in a bleak white blanket across Europe from Scandinavia to the Balkans. Some towns faced food and fuel shortage. Ice was piled high in rivers. In the Baltic 140 ships of various sizes were held tight in an ice crush.

In Jugo-Slavia the Moslem town of Gradsko, near Sarajevo, was dug out of the snow after being buried for nine days. Food and fuel was gone and many of the 3,000 inhabitants were delirious.

Passengers on the Simplon express, which a week ago were hurled in an avalanche near Fribourg, arrived at Constantinople from Rodosto, little the worse for their experience. Among them was Sir Gilbert Clayton, new British high commissioner to Iraq.

Denmark had the worst ice condition since 1888. Many islands were cut off. One of them, Pelvise, has been isolated since January 11. Ice-reckers had the greatest difficulty keeping channels open.

Germany suffered severely from the ice and cold. Many rivers were frozen over. River traffic almost everywhere stopped. There were many deaths. Danzig harbor froze over. At Kiel three battleships worked to keep a channel clear.

Twelve hundred miles of the Rhine river were frozen over. In many places piled several feet high, giving rise to fears of disastrous floods when the thaw comes.

Hungary experienced the latest temperature since 1860, ranging from zero Fahrenheit at Budapest to 22 degrees below at Mateszalla.

Conditions in and around Constantinople were extremely severe. There were reports of deaths. Roads were blocked with snow nine feet deep in places, and many smaller communities were cut off from food supplies.

There were scattered reports of epidemics. The worst came from Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, both humans and cattle were victims in numerous small towns, and villages. At Galanta villagers had to barricade themselves to keep from being attacked.

POPE TO RULE OWN VATICAN STATE

Pope Pius, inset, informed his official organization that complete agreement had been reached with the Italian government whereby he will have absolute control of the so-called "Vatican City," a part of the gardens of which are shown above. The treaty settling this age-old question was signed Monday at the Lateran Palace by Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary representing the Pope and Premier Mussolini, on behalf of King Victor Emanuel.

FOUR MAIN ISSUES AWAIT ACTION NOW BY LEGISLATURE

HIGHWAYS, UTILITIES, PRISON AND WATER LEGISLATION HOLD ATTENTION

By E. W. BARRY
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—The Texas legislature has four lively scraps docketed, one for each of the remaining weeks of the present session, as a result of failure of committees to adjust differences between proponents of highway, prison, public utilities and water priority legislation.

Governor Moody, by personal intervention, may succeed in getting favorable action on the administration of the prison system, and concentrating the legislature's desire to have the legislature pass on to the people for a decision at the ballot box of the proposal to issue bonds for building state highways and reimbursing counties which have already constructed them with their own money, and his suggestion to regulate public utilities.

INDIANA CHAIRMAN DECLARES STATEMENT "DASTARDLY AND COWARDLY"

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—Continuation of bonds by Col. Robert W. Stewart is stressed in a 71-page letter sent to stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today by Winthrop W. Aldrich, of the proxy committee, headed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The document includes excerpts from testimony before the senate committee which investigated the Teapot Dome scandal, and the opinion of the supreme court in which the purpose of the Continental Trading Company was declared to have been illegitimate.

The letter sets forth in detail the connection of Col. Stewart with the Continental Company and charges he concealed from the directors of the Standard of Indiana for six years that part of the profits which he knew as early as November, 1921, had been turned over to him in the form of Liberty bonds "which he knew as early as November, 1921, had been turned over to him in the form of Liberty bonds."

It goes on to say that Stewart "in- stead of disclosing this fact to his board of directors and turning over the bonds, immediately created a

Wales May Not Fall Again; Has Abandoned Riding

LONDON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Surprise and disappointment prevailed in English hunting circles today after publication in the Express of a story that the Prince of Wales had decided to abandon hunting and point-to-point racing.

The story said a hunting stable of fifteen horses, among them Dogmead, a favorite, would be sold within a fortnight, the decision being due to rapidly increasing duties of the prince because of the illness of his father.

The Express story, which lacked confirmation, emphasis, however, that he was giving up the sport for the time being, only, and did not intend to abandon it permanently.

JOHNSTON WILL START DEFENSE AGAINST CHARGES

BITTERLY FOUGHT TRIAL IS INDICATED; WILL REQUIRE
SEVERAL DAYS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 11. (AP)—Prosecutors of Governor Henry S. Johnston won their point in the first roll call vote of the senate court of impeachment, which started his trial today on 11 charges.

By a vote of 20 to 14, the senate overruled defense objections to testimony purporting to reveal a conspiracy between Johnston and J. R. Armstrong, an advisor.

The first testimony related to the pardoning of Dewey Crosswhite, convicted murderer and fugitive from justice, although the senate was trying Johnston on a charge of general incompetency and the pardon matter is included in a separate article alleging corruption.

R. G. Lovejoy, brother of Thelma Lovejoy, for whose murder Crosswhite was convicted, said he had given the pardon to Johnston because of the pardon, granted last December.

W. A. Lovejoy of Ardmore, father of the murdered girl, was the second witness.

R. W. Owen, attorney for Johnston, halted his testimony.

"We'll admit that Crosswhite shot the girl anywhere in the body," Owen said. "We'll admit he did a cowardly deed, pleaded guilty, was sentenced to life and was given a full pardon by Johnston."

"This testimony is nonsense and for no other purpose than to incense and prejudice members of this court."

"We'll admit all of the counsel's contentions except that the pardon was corruptly and unlawfully issued."

"We intend to show that the governor depended upon his subordinates in the pardon and did not himself act corruptly or unlawfully."

Sullivan (H. E. Sullivan, Johnston's private secretary) misled him as to the circumstances surrounding this pardon.

"Of course the pardon should not have been granted and the man should not be at liberty today. There is no use to go into detail about the murder."

Owen said he would admit that the pardon was granted at the time of the pardon. Crosswhite was a fugitive from justice.

The witness then was excused without further testimony.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 11. (AP)—Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, today goes before a senate court of impeachment to defend himself on eleven charges voted against him by the house of representatives.

That the trial will be bitterly fought is indicated in a statement

MANY PROBLEMS AHEAD CONGRESS BEFORE CLOSING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Members of congress are confident they have the legislative program well in hand. Enough progress has been made on appropriation measures to practically assure the passage of all of them before March 4 and the senate has Boulder Dam, the Kellogg treaty and the cruiser bill out of the way.

On the senate program today was the Caraway bill to regulate trading on cotton and grain futures, and the house had before it affairs of the District of Columbia. The senate also has before it a resolution asking that the federal reserve board propose legislation to meet the speculative situation on the exchanges, in the offering. It seemed likely that the Caraway bill, already shelved once, would be laid aside while the resolution was taken up, although its sponsor, Senator Caraway of Arkansas, has served notice he wants his measure passed on before the week is over.

Walsh Resolution Up.

Before the week is out the senate is expected to pass on the Walsh report censuring the departments of the interior and justice for their part in the renewal of the contract for Salt Creek royalty oil to the Sinclair interests. The senate public lands committee voted Senator Walsh down in committee on this question and he has taken the matter to the senate. Dr. Hubert Work, also secretary of the interior, and William J. Donovan, assistant attorney general and a cabinet possibility, are censured in the Walsh report.

Showdown on Highway.

A showdown is likely this week on the highway bond issue proposal, although the governor has succeeded in changing the attitude of some of the legislators to the extent of having them believe, as he does, that the proposed amendment should be submitted to the people to decide for themselves whether they want to be bonded, the matter occupied a precarious position by reason of the requirement that a proposed amendment can be submitted only by a two-third majority of both houses.

Some fireworks are promised when the Martin bill in the senate and the Mankin bill in the house, barring from places as candidates on the democratic primary ballots persons who last November "bolted" the party presidential nominees, come up.

That Governor Moody's recommendation, that bureaus and commissions be consolidated is not only going unheeded but has been brushed aside by legislation proposing to set up more bureaus and commissions, is the belief of some of the legislators.

Action of the legislature in creating more boards, commissions, bureaus and committees is expected to work without complying with immigration regulations.

TREATIES ENDING ROMAN QUESTION SIGNED MONDAY

ELABORATE CEREMONY MARKS FINAL SETTLEMENT OF OLD PROBLEM

ROME, Feb. 11. (AP)—Treaties bringing to an end the sixty-year-old Roman question were signed by representatives of the Pope and the king of Italy at 12:17 p. m. today.

Shortly afterward an official communique was posted declaring the Roman question had been settled and the agreement between the Vatican and Italian government signed.

The signatories were gathered for the ceremony in the Papal council hall of the Lateran Palace. The treaties, written in Italian, were read aloud.

There followed a solemn and dramatic moment when Cardinal Gasparri signed the documents with a quill pen mounted in gold. Premier Mussolini then took the pen and signed.

Students lined up in the square of St. John Lateran had the aspect of a pretty scene at noon when the momentous treaty and concordat was signed. Students from the College of Propaganda, made in their ecclesiastical cassocks, lined up on both sides of the entrance to the palace adding to the impressiveness of the scene. They represented all the nations and races of the world. Some were from China, the Philippines, Japan, Siam and Central Africa while others were Portuguese and Finnish, Scotch and Greeks with a large sprinkling of Americans.

There were also Dominican monks in white robes, Franciscans in brown and Augustinians in black and while here and there were a few nuns and some mendicant monks with their bare feet braving the cold and wet weather.

Mussolini Interested

Climbing a great staircase 30 feet wide and having on both sides rows of antique marble sarcophagi, 40 in number, the various officials of the papal court, headed by the first prime minister, Mussolini, had entered the palace, and he plainly showed his interest.

Once in the large "Papal council hall" into which the light came through immense windows, Cardinal Gasparri and Premier Mussolini, who had been preceded by Monsignor Ercole, director of the Lateran Museum, exchanged a few compliments after which they immediately proceeded to the presentation of their respective credentials.

Cardinal Gasparri greeted the premier most warmly, saying he was glad to welcome him in the oldest palace of the popes on such an occasion. The premier, with a smile, replied that he was glad to be an instrument for re-establishment of peace between the church and state. The only outsiders present were Monsignor Enrico Pucci, representing the Vatican press, and Dr. Ferretti, head of the press bureau of the premier.

Texts Are Read.

Both texts of the historic document, written in Italian, were then read, one by Ernesto Pacelli, the advocate who represented the pope, and the other by the secretary Grandi, representing the state. Then came the solemn moment when Cardinal Gasparri signed the historic documents followed by the premier.

The text of the treaty will not be made public until the present since it is still to come up before the legislative assembly, but a resume of its terms will be issued tomorrow.

While the official text has not been made public, it is known that the first two treaties recognize the independence and sovereignty of the pontiff, at the same time slightly rectifying the boundaries of the Vatican without any great increase in its actual area. The concordat, regarded in some quarters as of even greater importance, concerns the relations between Italy and the Holy See. It is understood to provide for the acceptance of Canon law by the state, thus introducing the church attitude on such questions as marriage and divorce into the civil code. The agreement also provides for an indemnity which the Italian government will pay the Vatican of about $87,500,000.

CALIFORNIA SLAYER WHINES FOR PROTECTION AS FATHER SLAIN BOYS COMES TO PRISON

Sympathy Ruses
Fail to Impress
Love Grown Cold

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. (AP)—Sure enough, William J. Walsh is in jail.

For a year Walsh had regarded Miss Hazel Lofgren as his girl friend. Last night, however, he found his welcome frigid. Miss Lofgren told him to get out, and that if he came back in 20 years it would be too soon.

Walsh went to the Kensington police station and telephoned Miss Lofgren.

"I am in the hands," he said, "of the police."

"Delighted," came the voice.

"Goodbye,"

Walsh went out into the night.

Half an hour later the Rose-land hospital notified police that a young man had just dashed in announcing he had been beaten by thugs. The hospital could find no wounds. It was impressed, however, with his insistence that Miss Hazel Lofgren be notified.

It was a quiet night anyway, so the desk sergeant at Kensington station notified the young man and Miss Lofgren to come over, which they did. Walsh was waiting with open arms when she walked in, but she sidestepped.

"Sergeant," she said, "I've been annoyed enough by this guy. Lock him up. He's a pest."

Now Walsh is in the hands of the police.

CLAIMED ROBISON CHECKED ON STATE FUNDS FOR FAMILY

CATTLEMAN GAVE REFUND CHECKS TO LAND COMMISSIONER WITNESS STATES

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—J. T. Robison, land commissioner, issued checks drawn in favor of his family on the special account representing the one cent acre fund for revaluation of state lands. P. J. Anthony, former teller for the Texas Bank and Trust company, testified before the committee investigating the land office, governor, attorney general's department and regents of the University of Texas, today.

Created by Representative Petch to state the amounts of some of these checks, Anthony said his "memory was probably faulty after a year or two" but said he could recollect cashing one for $50 to $80, payable to Robert, son of the commissioner, and probably one for $200 or $250, payable to Mrs. Robison.

He said he cashed many checks drawn on the account over the window for Robison.

"What did you think about Mr. Robison's practice with references to drawing on this account?" Petch asked Anthony.

"I thought he was getting himself into it," Anthony started to answer before E. F. Smith, representing Robison, stopped him.

Question Withdrawn.

"Great Scott! There ought to be a limit somewhere," Smith continued, and Petch withdrew his question.

"Do you know that this account owed him money for funds he had expended in West Texas while on the account?" Petch asked.

Anthony said he did not know.

W. Earl of El Paso, said he made Robison a present of the amount of the refund coming to him on his section of school land. He said he had been told that Robison had been paid. He said the check for "only $1 and something" was handed back to Robison, and that he told Robison he did not want it.

"I wanted to get the people over returning the refunds prorated to them," Earl said.

Pressed by Petch to tell how he knew this, he said Judge J. W. Cullen, who had been to his office with "some kind of a paper," and told him that all the large landowners in West Texas were refunding to Robison what was left after the land reappraisal expenses had been paid.

"He said that Robison had always been a friend of the cattlemen, when they could not pay the interest on their land debts, and that in view of the small salary he received he ought to have the balance."

"He said to give it to Mr. Robison," he replied.

He testified also to a grievance he had against the land office with reference to the effort to have it accept and file an oil and gas prospect permit on a tract of land in Coleman county.

Photostatic copies of the account opened by Robison as "special" in the Texas Bank and Trust Company on April 30, 1925, in which it was claimed he deposited the funds derived from the one cent per acre assessed last year, were introduced in evidence.

Petch said the evidence would bear on the statement of Robison before the committee that the number of the refund checks had been returned to him, endorsed by the payees, and that he had drawn on the special fund, believing that the state had no interest, financial or otherwise, in the amounts presented by the returned checks.

Petch read from the statutes to show he said that the surplus remaining in the fund "did not become the private funds of Robison, but became and were trust funds."

"We believe his acts in connection with the trust funds are legitimate subjects of investigation," Petch said.

Smith contended the law covering disposition of funds had been amended.

Robison stated the one cent acre assessment had realized $68,752 and that after expenses were deducted there remained about $21,000 to be returned, and that this was apportioned at three mills per acre. The bank account showed that there was $7,074.10 to the credit of the fund on Feb. 6.

MINES FIELD, Los Angeles, Feb. 11. (AP)—Miss Bobby Trout, Los Angeles girl aviator, landed here at 10:19:34 o'clock this morning in her Golden Eagle monoplane, setting a new world's endurance flight record for women, of 17 hours, 8 minutes and 45 seconds.

Together with her endurance record, the pretty flier had brought down two other marks, the night flying record and the distance flight mark for women.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN BREAKS ENDURANCE AND OTHER RECORDS

STAYED IN AIR NEARLY SEVENTEEN HOURS ON SOLO FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11. (AP)—Miss Bobbie Trout of Los Angeles captured three world's aviation records here today by exceeding the existing marks set by women fliers for endurance, night flying and distance covered in a solo flight.

The triple victory of Miss Trout, whose endurance record at 17:30 o'clock this morning by remaining one hour longer in the air than Miss Ellnor Smith of New York, who a few days ago established a mark of 16 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds.

The girl aviator, who held the endurance record before Miss Smith made her attempt, broke by wide margin the night flying record, flying for eight hours. The third record, for distance covered by a woman in a plane such as Miss Trout is flying, was broken when she passed the 832 mile mark.

The triple victory of Miss Trout, who is 22 years old, came on the heels of an altitude flight here yesterday by Miss Marvel Crosson, 25, also of Los Angeles. Miss Crosson is believed to have broken the mark established a few weeks ago by Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden of Oakland, Cal. Whether the Los Angeles girl exceeded the mark of 20,270 feet established by Mrs. Thaden remains to be determined through checking of her barograph.

At the end of her flight Miss Crosson said she knew she had topped the 20,000 foot mark.

Miss Trout took off at 5:10:45 p. m. yesterday with the intention of remaining aloft 20 hours.

MEXICO EXCITED AFTER ATTEMPT ON PRESIDENT'S LIFE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11. (AP)—The greatest excitement Mexico City has known since the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon prevailed today.

Police guards were doubled because of dynamiting of the train on which President Emilio Portes Gil was returning here yesterday, and because of the discovery shortly after midnight of an unexploded bomb in the campaign headquarters of Aron Saenz, presidential candidate.

Saenz is governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, the candidate of the national revolutionary party for the presidency. A son-in-law of ex-President Calles.

President Arrives Home.

President Portes Gil arrived here today aboard a special train which had been the object of a bomb attack. The state of Guanajuato, between the stations of Comonfort and Rincon.

Adding to the Sabbath excitement were demonstrations accompanying the funeral of General Obregon, slain in the battle of Cuernavaca, who was executed Saturday. Of 34 persons arrested 20 were women. Three persons were killed and 20 were wounded.

The bombing of President Portes Gil's train took place as the locomotive passed over a bridge in the wilderness in the eastern part of the state of Guanajuato, between Comonfort and Rincon, south of San Luis Potosi.

Locomotive Is Destroyed.

The locomotive was partly destroyed and two coaches back of it were thrown from the tracks. The fireman in the locomotive was killed. The state of Guanajuato preceded the presidential special, passed over the bridge unscathed.

Near the scene of the dynamiting troops found the remains of an open air mine, some sulphuric acid, and a receipt for a telegram sent at Tampico, where the president had been after a visit to Ciudad Victoria to attend the inaugural of his successor as governor of the state of Tamaulipas.

Troops were ordered to search for those responsible for the train dynamiting.

A special train was dispatched from Cuernavaca, enabling the party to continue the journey to Mexico City.

Funeral Brings Trouble.

Mexico City police held their hands full at the funeral of General Obregon, slain in the battle of Cuernavaca, who was executed Saturday. A crowd fell in behind with occasional women breaking through police lines to grab a flower from the hearse. There were frequent clashes between firemen with a hose, the police.

Famous Parade of Mardi Gras Tonight

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11. (AP)—The annual Mardi Gras celebration which opens in earnest tonight with the parade and Ball of Fraternite, was given added impetus today by a message from Rex, King of the Carnival, to "let joy be unconfined." Profuse will be the center of attraction tonight. Little is known about the parade except that no expense has been spared in making it one of the most colorful pageants ever produced at a Mardi Gras.

CHILDREN FROM DALLAS ORPHANAGE AT THIRD AVENUE

REYNOLDS PRESBYTERIAN ORPHANAGE CHILDREN FURNISH PROGRAM

Thirty-two children from the Reynolds Presbyterian Home of Dallas presented a splendid program at the Third Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock before a large and appreciative audience. The hour's entertainment consisted of solos, duets, instrumental, chorus selections and short talks by members of the governing board and children from the Home.

The first number on the program was a short program presented by the nursery department of the Home, under the direction of Mrs. Rudolph. Several small tots were presented in songs and recitations. Uninterrupted applause was accorded the tots as they finished their part, especially the little part where two small members recited two nursery rhymes.

R. T. Padgett, a Corsicana boy in the institution, read the Scripture. According to a statement made by Mr. Proctor, young Padgett is progressing rapidly in the field of animal husbandry and attended the A. & M. short course last summer where he was awarded second place in the cattle judging contest.

H. K. Reed, field representative for the Reynolds Orphanage, led in prayer.

The splendid chorus rendered a selection entitled "O Loving Father." At the conclusion of this number, the orchestra rendered the selection "Aloha Oe."

Milton Austin, "the red-headed, freckled-faced boy of 11 years, who can make that xylophone whistle," played "The Rosary," which was appreciated by the audience. This youngster has promise as a great musician and will be given training in that line.

Wylene Leigh, the soloist for the chorus, sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Ode Minatra, superintendent of the Orphanage, spoke briefly upon the aims and ideals of the institution, declaring that the Orphanage was small but was increasing rapidly in size and endowment. He pleaded for the aid of every individual present in making Reynolds Orphanage a place where manhood and womanhood would be developed the same as in other homes. In conclusion, Mr. Minatra stated that the children were surrounded with people with personality and spirit, did manhood and womanhood were turned from the gates of the institution.

After Mr. Minatra had concluded his talk, R. T. Padgett took the opportunity to thank the members of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church for their aid in placing him in the Home.

Undine Leigh and Hazel Waldon, the songsters for the chorus, sang a duet, "Behold, How He Loved Us."

Joe Burnett captivated the audience with his pianologue depicting the life of a small boy that has to watch the baby when the rest of the gang are playing baseball. This number was applauded soundly.

Eunice Johnson spoke briefly upon the life in the home and declared that she brought greetings from one hundred and forty of the happiest boys and girls in the world, those residing in the Home. Special tribute was paid to Mr. Minatra by the speaker.

After the chorus rendered the hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the program was turned over to Rev. P. Martin Baker, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, who thanked the children for their program and announced the arrangements made to care for the children while in Corsicana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Proctor, E. N. Johnson, J. H. Reed, Roland Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ode Minatra accompanied the children to Corsicana.

At the evening hour, Mr. Minatra addressed the congregation.

U. S. MAIL ROBBER CASE NEARS TRIAL FORT WORTH COURT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 11.—(T)—As cases on the criminal docket of the United States district court come up this week, interest in the docket is centered primarily upon the trial of two men and a woman, indicted in connection with the $53,000 mail train robbery here last Nov. 8.

It is expected the cases of Travis H. Wilson, Miss Orrie Bridges and Mealy P. Pruett, will come before Judge Wilson this week. Indictments charging the three with complicity in the robbery were returned at Wichita Falls, but trial of the cases was transferred to the Fort Worth court.

It is charged that Wilson robbed a mail car on a Texas & Pacific Railway train entering Fort Worth of $53,000, with Miss Bridges and Pruett, who was a mail clerk on the car at the time of the robbery, being indicted as accomplices.

LENGTHY LETTER ATTACKS STEWART BOND CONCEALMENT

secret trust making a subordinate employee of the company trustee, and did not himself keep nor did he require the trustee to keep any record whatever of the transaction except the trust agreement written in pen and ink which was kept in his (Stewart's) own safe deposit box.

The letter adds that more than a majority of stockholders have sent proxies to the committee which Mr. Rockefeller heads. Rockefeller is trying to get out Stewart as chairman.

Stewart's Interests Reply.
CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(T)—Col. Robert W. Stewart, through his personal attorney, in night pronounced as "nothing short of a cowardly and dastardly libel" statements made public in New York opposing Col. Stewart's re-election to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana's board of directors.

Albert W. Hopkins, the attorney, issued a statement which he said was in answer to two attacks upon Col. Stewart published in New York, one unsigned, the other by Winthrop W. Aldrich, New York lawyer, a brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and chairman of the Rockefeller proxies committee seeking Stewart's defeat at the stockholders' meeting March 7.

The Aldrich statement was described by Hopkins as "a cunningly drawn document to deceive the stockholders and the public," and the lawyer further described it as "untrue in many places."

The attorney went into the Consolidated Trading Company transaction, which played a prominent part in the attack upon Col. Stewart, and reiterated denials that the oil company head made any concealment of his part therein or that any action by him was taken except with the interests of the Standard Company in mind.

Hopkins was asked about the Aldrich statement that Col. Stewart for six years did not tell about the bonds received in the consolidated cases.

"That is not true, either," Hopkins said. "Col. Stewart told L. L. Stephens, general counsel for the Standard Oil of Indiana, about them in 1924. He didn't tell the rest of the board of directors because the investigation was on and because of the publicity, and he didn't wish to put any further responsibility on the directors' shoulders."

Regarding the New York statement that Mr. Rockefeller already held a majority of stockholders' proxies, Hopkins said:

"We say that is untrue, and we charge them to prove it."

DISCHARGE GRAND JURY AS RESULT OF DEATH OF MEMBER

ELEVEN MEMBERS FORMER JURY AND ONE ADDITIONAL AGAIN IMPANELLED

A proceeding was enacted at the thirteenth judicial district court Monday morning which is thought to be without a parallel in Texas judicial circles when the present grand jury was dissolved and discharged and a new grand jury was empaneled by Hawkins Scarabrough, district judge.

Due to the death of A. D. Wilson of Powell, Saturday, a member of the January term grand jury, the other eleven members were discharged and then re-empaneled in the new grand jury along with Jasper Sweatman, to make the entire twelve members. All of the bailiffs and other officers of the grand jury were reemployed and again sworn into office in order that any proceedings or indictments which might be made by the investigators could not be questioned legally. It was pointed out.

Eleven members of the grand jury served on two separate and distinct grand juries in the same court in the same day which is apparently something of a record in itself.

Appropriate resolutions were made and adopted by the grand jury Saturday afternoon on the death of Mr. Wilson.

Stephens, general counsel for the Standard Oil of Indiana, about them in 1924. He didn't tell the rest of the board of directors because the investigation was on and because of the publicity, and he didn't wish to put any further responsibility on the directors' shoulders."

Regarding the New York statement that Mr. Rockefeller already held a majority of stockholders' proxies, Hopkins said:

"We say that is untrue, and we charge them to prove it."

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEMBERS URGED TO BRING IN VOTES

Regular bi-weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock according to notices sent out Saturday.

A meeting of the highway committee of the chamber will be held at 10:30 Tuesday morning at the call of R. J. Jackson, chairman.

In the absence of C. L. Jester, president of the chamber, Vice-President H. D. Fillers will preside at the regular meeting of the directors.

Ballots cast in the voting for directors of the chamber for the ensuing year will be counted by a special committee beginning at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon according to an announcement made Monday by W. Roy Christian, secretary.

Members of the chamber who have not sent in their ballots are urged to mail them Monday or to bring them to the chamber headquarters not later than noon Tuesday. The record established in the first year under the new system of operation has been passed, but the officials of the chamber are making every effort to have a record vote cast.

CHICAGO IS TOLD TO CHANGE BELIEF IN MURDER CASE

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(T)—James Conway, an oil dealer, who two weeks ago identified a man as a slayer, was kidnapped in front of his home last night by five men, threatened with death if he was not "more careful in his identifications," and released.

With several other victims of recent robberies, he had gone to a hospital in January to look at Albert Strook who lay wounded from bullets fired in a gunfight. He named Strook as the man who killed Jimmy Webb, a semi-pro baseball player.

For nearly an hour the men drove Conway around the south side, cursing him, pushing him about in the car with the points of their weapons and threatening to kill him if he stuck to his identification of Strook.

Rescue Boats Unable Aid Stricken Vessel Because of Gale

SEATTLE, Feb. 11.—(T)—Thirty-four officers and men aboard the disabled Japanese freighter Alloway, today were fighting an Alaskan gale while rescue craft looked on helplessly.

The steamer Bronnøy, which yesterday gave up an attempt to tow the Alloway after the helpless craft became unmanageable, presumably was standing by. The Montauk, another rescue ship, also was assumed to have reached the stricken vessel.

WEEK OF PRAYER AND SELF DENIAL BY SALVATION ARMY

EFFORT WILL ALSO BE MADE TO RAISE SUM FOR ARMY INSTITUTIONS

Week of prayer and self-denial will be fittingly observed by the local Salvation Army corps throughout this entire week. Cottage prayer meetings will be conducted on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bowman, 1701 Thirteenth avenue; Wednesday at Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ingram's residence, 616 North Fourteenth street; Thursday at the residence of Mrs. Luella B. Brown, 408 South Thirteenth street. The public is requested to participate in these meetings for the inspiration they may receive and for the salvation of this community as "prayer changes things."

Open air services will be conducted on various business section street corners at 4 and 7:15 p. m. Public services will be conducted in the Army Citadel at 8 o'clock, each evening except Monday and Thursday.

In addition to the special services conducted a diligent effort will be put forth to raise $250 for Corsicana's quota of the national fund raised each year to finance the Salvation Army's missionary work, both foreign and home. The Army has 106 industrial homes in this country with accommodations for 3,401 homeless men, 9 children's homes with accommodations for 1,005; 23 women's homes and hospitals for maternity cases, accommodations for 2,121; last year 4,516 girls were admitted, one of whom was sent from Corsicana.

There are many other departments of religious as well as social service activities promoted by the Army which are practically self supporting, however the three previously mentioned institutions require a large sum of money in order to keep their doors open to the thousands who may be down but are not out, because the Army statistics prove that many who pass through these institutions really find themselves and develop into useful citizens.

Captain Thomas requests those who are interested and can spare some of their earnings to help this most worthy cause to phone 1565 and some representative will be pleased to call or mail to Mr. A. G. Elliott, treasurer, and mark same self-denial fund.

ATTENDS SHOE CONVENTION. George Baum, manager of the Big Four Shoe company, went to Fort Worth Monday morning to attend the annual convention of the Southwestern Shoe Dealers Association. He expects to be gone for several days, viewing the latest styles of shoes.

F. G. (Guy) Hamilton who has been connected with the late Frank P. Wood in the hardware business for the past twenty-two years is now with the C. A. Tripp Hardware and will be glad to see all his friends and customers at his new place of business.

MEMBERS CHAMBER COMMERCE VOTING HIGHWAY MEASURES

REFERENDUM SUBMITTED BY UNITED STATES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Seven proposals dealing with fundamental policies of state and local administration are being submitted in the form of a ballot by mail to members of the chamber of commerce. The result of this check of Corsicana sentiment will be forwarded to the United States chamber of commerce which seeks in this way to get at the opinion of American business and professional men in shaping its suggestions for federal legislation.

Canvass of the referendum will be made by the highway committee of the local chamber, of which R. J. Jackson is chairman, at a committee meeting Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. This referendum is based on a committee report of thirteen nationally known men, headed by Frederick J. Haynes, president of Durant Motors.

This full report has been furnished members of the local highway committee for study.

Among the points covered in the referendum for the local ballot are: scope of authority of state highway commissions; supervision of local road programs by state departments; joining of smaller road units for engineering supervision; co-ordination of local roads with state and national cardinals; voluntary agreements of adjoining metropolitan units on highway projects and routings; and the construction of highways as far as possible by means of funds provided by the users of the roads.

Members of the local committee to make final recommendations after canvassing the ballots are: R. J. Jackson, J. L. Halbert, J. E. Butler, H. R. Stroube, O. M. Boynton and A. A. Allison.

MAN IDENTIFIED AS THEIR ATTACKER -BY MANY WOMEN

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11.—(AP)—

Alvin E. Merritt, 25, yesterday was identified by 14 women as the man who terrorized and attacked them during the last few weeks. Taken in custody yesterday, Merritt was shown to a score or more of women victims of a night prowler who had preyed on women in a prominent residential district. One woman fainting after naming him as the man who attacked her.

Torn and muddy clothing led to Merritt's arrest. Merritt admitted ownership of the clothing, but said it had been torn in an automobile accident last Wednesday night, the same night five attacks on women occurred.

Mrs. Merritt, 19-year-old wife of the prisoner, and mother of his eight months' old child, announced she would stand by him.

Capper Resolution Would Place Embargo Wartime Armament

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Senator Capper of Kansas, had prepared for introduction today a resolution which would have the United States institute an armament embargo against any country violating the Kellogg peace pact recently ratified by the senate.

Senator Capper said he had prepared the resolution because of an insistent public demand, and he asserted when it becomes known that a nation violating the pact would not be able to buy munitions or supplies from the United States war would probably be averted.

SUNSHINE BRINGS TEMPERATURE HERE SLIGHTLY HIGHER

ICE AND SLEET EXPECTED TO DISAPPEAR WITH WARMER WEATHER PROMISED

The weather bureau prediction of "slowly rising temperatures" made Saturday was certainly correct as no records for rapid climbing have been made by the mercury in the thermometers in Corsicana. Saturday night the low point reached on the government thermometer was 17, only two degrees above the low point on Friday night. The low point Sunday night was 27.

The temperature rose enough for the heavy sleet which fell Thursday to start melting in exposed places and on the south side of buildings Saturday afternoon but before night it was again freezing and very little of it disappeared Saturday afternoon. It began thawing out again Sunday morning but it was well into the afternoon before it began melting rapidly. Monday morning it was frozen on again and at noon it was practically all melted except in the shady places.

Four days is an unusual length of time for sleet or snow to remain on the ground here.

The few motorists who ventured off the paved streets found muddy, sloppy roads and going was difficult. Mud and water that was splashed upon the cars soon froze. Sliding was the pastime of many Sunday morning before the sleet had melted off the streets. Snow-balling was also indulged in by many.

Water pipes remained frozen during the entire cold spell and many automobile radiators had to be thawed out.

Corsicana was fortunate in having plenty of gas during the entire cold spell and a minimum amount of suffering was reported.

The forecast by the weather bureau for tonight and Tuesday is not so cold, frost to the coast.

The ground is thoroughly soaked from the melting sleet and it will be several days before the farmers can resume their work but the cold weather and sleet is expected to be beneficial. It will keep fruit from budding and will also furnish plenty of soil moisture to start crops growing.

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR IS ON TRIAL BEFORE IMPEACHMENT COURT

PROSECUTORS WIN FIRST POINT IN DISPUTE IN JOHN- STON IMPEACHMENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The house of representatives boards of managers, which will prosecute Governor Henry S. Johnston in his impeachment trial before the senate court, decided today to try him first on the charge of incompetency, the last of 11 articles preferred against him. Johnston's attorneys made no objection.

The governor's trial opened today before the senate court of impeachment.

Prior to the convening of the court, it was announced the law firm of Everett, Dudley and Brewer of Oklahoma City, and David A. Kilne, also of Oklahoma City, had been added to counsel for Johnston.

The suspended governor sat with his counsel in the center of the senate chamber, at the same table with the house managers. Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Johnston, sat in the back row of the balcony.

Would Exclude Witnesses.

A contest arose almost immediately as to whether witnesses excepting the one who is testifying, should be excluded from the senate chamber. John Head of the board of managers, insisted that this be done. R. L. Davidson of Johnston's counsel, declared that he was not aware yet what witnesses the defense would summon, and asserted he had summoned no witnesses pending the introduction of the state's case.

Chief Justice Charles W. Mason, presiding, ruled that all witnesses, both those who have been subpoenaed and those whom either side propose to summon, should be sworn at the outset of the trial, and all but one at a time excluded.

The opening statement was made by Head.

The board of managers expects to "produce the truth as it is known," Head said in his statement.

"We will indulge in no personalities."

"If the house has been correctly informed we will unfold a tale of political intrigue and chicanery on the part of the governor since he has been in office."

Head said, "It will show that the respondent has surrounded himself with political parasites for political expediency drawing their sustenance from the people of the state."

"The board of managers intends to prove," Head said, "that the governor was made aware of misconduct of subordinates and had refused to act against them, adopting a vacillating attitude."

Reporters Are Unable Locate Film Director

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Newspaper men seeking reports on the condition of Marshall Neilan, motion picture director, were unable to locate him today.

Neilan was taken to a hospital yesterday after his wife, Blanche Sweet, screen star, reported she had found him in the garage of his home, overcome by fumes from the exhaust. He was said to have been in a critical condition.

Miss Sweet said her husband had accidentally locked the outer doors of the garage and had been overcome before he could leave through another door.

HOW SAFE IS FLYING?

Few persons will take exception to the opinion that flying is a necessary development to the welfare of mankind, capable of bringing new joys, new visions
 and a new outlook in life.
 But even fewer will agree with the statement that the modern airplane is so safe that to regard a pilot or his passenger as a daredevil is ridiculous.

However, air-fearing people must grant some significance to the fact that fatal accidents in aviation are so rare they are still news. Already aeronautics are predicting the time near at hand when they will be rarer.

In the opinion of aviators
 a plane of standard make that has been tested is, with an experienced pilot on board, almost as safe as a passenger train or trolley car, and safer than an automobile on a congested highway.

As to safety, what better proof could there be than the 5,000,000 miles flown by British commercial planes with but four fatalities and
 the 1,000,000 miles flown by Australian passenger planes
 with but a single accident?

At this stage of the development of commercial flying it is interesting to read the editorial comments of 1845 to the effect that "the largest item in railway returns bids fair to be the list of killed," and of 1852 settling forth that "railway accidents are the staple of our newspaper reading."

Since railroads have attained high degree of safety which makes a passenger coach about the safest place
 in the world, isn't it reasonable to predict a time when flying will be as safe or safer,
 unless traffic congestion
 increases the hazards of the air?

WHERE WILL THIS STOP?

Among the latest efforts
 to altar history and reapportion credit here and there for various contributions to human progress, none has aroused more excitement
 than the tribute paid Dr. Isaac Watts by Governor Reed of Kansas in his recent inaugural address. The governor mentioned the doctor's great service to mankind in the invention of the steam engine, heretofore ascribed to James Watts, the Scottish engineer. Dr. Isaac Watts until now was assumed to be a hymn writer.

This has aroused a new spirit of inquiry in Kansas and elsewhere, and some speculation as to whether there are not other equally famous inventions which will have to be reallocated in history. It is suggested the sewing machine may have been invented by Julia Ward Howe, who was also a writer of hymns; and that Fred Fulton, commonly thought to be a boxer, may have built the original Cler-mont. Perhaps it was Sir John Franklin who first noted the electrical properties of lightning.

It seems conclusive that it was Henry Ford who built the Model T, and not the Ford who owned Ford's theater; but on the other hand, history might be meas-urably brightened if new research showed that Harry Payne Whitney invented the cotton gin and that Col. Robert G. Ingersoll put together the first dollar watch. Of course, the possibility that Harold Bell Wright was a pioneer in aviation would have to be explored.

Incidentally, it is assumed the present Governor
 Reed of Kansas is none other than Thomas B. Reed of Maine, the distinguished speaker of the house in the 90's.

Great benefit to all concerned would be derived by a proper extension of the city limits.

VICTOR HUGO'S DREAM.

In his old age Victor Hugo had a vision. Born in 1802, he had a boyhood memory of the Napoleonic wars. He had seen the stirring revolutionary movements of 1830 and 1848. He had seen the rise of Prussia
 and the defeat of Austria,
 the Crimean struggle, and the long fight for the independence and unification of Italy. Driven from France by Napoleon III, he had watched from his place of exile in the channel islands
 the defeat of France by Prussia, the collapse of the Second Empire, the formation of the Third Republic and the formation of the German Empire. And from all these wars and all these movements toward unity he derived a lesson, and dreamed a dream. Then he wrote:

"In the twentieth century
 there will be an extraordinary nation. It will be grand, but it will be free. It will be illustrious, rich, thoughtful, pacific, cordial, to the rest of humanity. It will have the sweet gravity of an older sister. It will be astonished at the glory of comic projectiles and will distinguish with difficulty between a general and a butcher. A battle between Italians and Germans, between English and Russians and French, will appear to it as would appear to us a battle between Picards and Burgundians. It will regard the field of Sadowa as we regard the bull-rings of Seville. It will consider stupid that oscillation of victory that means that Auster-litz is always balanced by Waterloo."

"That nation will be Europe, and later still will be Humanity."
 So wrote the poet in his old age, seeing visions and dreaming dreams. Between that day and this, Europe
 has seen another cataclysm,
 and the lesson still remains to be learned. But today Victor Hugo is not alone;
 there are many people all over the world who know
 the futility of war, the stupid oscillation of victory,
 and are working toward the fulfillment of the dream.

ABOLISHING DEGREES.

Criticism of the American scholastic system is easy, although the remedy is hard to find. Colleges and universities are functioning today probably as efficiently
 as ever, the difference between present and past being in the public's idea of what should be expected of them.

It must be remembered that the United States only recently cast aside its swaddling clothes and that in an infant country higher education, or the need for higher education, is not a pressing matter. Now, however, conditions are different, and educators see that their structure is not perfect and are casting about for a remedy.

This is a healthy sign. The more thought expended upon the subject, the sooner
 the new university will arise.
 Blind copying of European institutions and methods will not suffice, for American problems, ideals, aims and ideas have little in common with those of foreign countries.

The stage is set for reform, and the day is not far distant when the American college will undergo its metamorphosis. Already it is demanded of college students that they do more original research, independent thinking and unsupervised study. Several institutions are contemplating abolition of the old system of grades and credits, that the student may work for intellectual attainment rather than for class promotion, credits and degrees. For the old system would be substituted a comprehensive final examination that would bring out
 the student's accumulated knowledge and attitude on intellectual matters.

College training is beneficial to the least studious and the most poorly equipped mentally, but the fact that no superior mentality nor great application is required to complete a college
 course and obtain a degree would indicate that their institutional contribution to education is limited.

What could be better than being better.

HIGH MONEY IN FLUSH TIMES.

What looks to be a vital and a very large matter is reported in a summarizing of business in 1928 issued by the federal reserve board. Industrial production broke all prior records, distribution kept pace with production, employment and payments rose, agricultural production was larger and steadily rising interest rates were noted in the money market. The point lies in the steadily-rising interest rates.

Savings accounts were higher than in any previous year. It would seem to have been in nearly all respects
 a flush year, with an ample money supply. The key is found in stock exchange operations in which, by far to the largest extent, all prior records were smashed.
 Large sums were drawn into stock speculation and, in addition over $5,000,000,000,
 by the end of the year was loaned on the New York stock exchange on stocks.
 Of the $5,000,000,000, over $2,000,000,000 was loaned direct by individuals or corporations, a sum which otherwise would have been on deposit in the banks and presumably would have affected the interest rate. The situation is not materially changed now.

As to the $2,000,000,000,
 what usually happens is that its component sums, instead of remaining on deposit in bank at low interest,
 are placed on loan on stocks
 by banks. The banks get fees and the lenders have been averaging six and seven per cent interest, instead of three or four per cent. No doubt, if this money were included in bank deposits,
 much of it still would be loaned by the banks on stocks. The banks loaned the other $3,000,000,000 of the $5,000,000,000 involved.
 It is, however, agreed that the comparatively new practice of direct loans on speculative stock operations has much increased the sums engaged in speculation and affects the general interest rate. That entails effect upon the costs of business engagements of all sorts, upon the farm and the home mortgage rate, upon the whole structure which makes the cost of living.

The matter is not thus discussed by the reserve board.
 Nor do we know of any remedy proposed from that source. It seems beyond
 the present banking control.
 In congress, it is under discussion although, unless moved by the matured opinion of the best financial authorities, faith in the good results of political action will be weak. Assuming too much money engaged in speculation and interest rates therefore too high, a call upon the financial wisdom of the country for control of the situation exists.

THE CHANNEL TUNNEL.

The proposal to dig a tunnel under the English Channel, which has been discussed for a century, is once more attracting attention in France and Great Britain. It has been opposed in the past by nervous military authorities, who were afraid if the tunnel
 were built they would wake up some morning to find a French army pouring out of its mouth on to British soil.

The airplane has practically sponged the Channel
 from the military map.
 Great Britain can be invaded from the air with much greater ease than it could have ever been invaded through a narrow tunnel under water. No French army could have entered it without the knowledge of the British, and they could have blown up their own end and drowned the army as Pharaoh's hosts were drowned in the Red Sea.

Prime Minister Baldwin,
 in discussing the project,
 has said it must be considered "outside of party atmosphere" if it is considered at all. A considerable majority in both the house of commons and the house of lords
 has expressed its approval of the plan, and business men in London are urging its adoption.

The freshman class in punning might see what it can do with the Helen Willengagement announcement
 and idea of a "love game."

EDISON.

Monday was an important birthday. Thomas A. Edison was 82 years old and still working. He is the most distinguished citizen of this republic—and that is something in a nation of 120,000, 000. The world knows what he is. Several years ago Foch met Edison at a dinner given by Judge Gary. In the parade past the French marshal everybody was perfunctory introduced and as perfunctorily greeted. Fifty or a hundred time millionaires, great industrialists, newspaper owners—most important in their own opinion—all looked alike and all looked like nothing to Foch.
 Edison's name pronounced
 in the usual way made no impression. But Judge Gary repeated it with a fine
 French accent, as follows:
 "Aydecsong, c'est le grand Aydecsong, Monsieur le Marcecheux."

"Ah, c'est le grand Edison!" exclaimed the marshal
 as excited as though you said, "This is Christopher Columbus." Today raise your convivial glass—of water—and drink to Edison,
 the American that the world knows.

DIRECTORS OF THE U. S. A.

Senator Capper, of Kansas, was not first to predict a time when the national government will be in the hands of a president and board of directors after the manner of the private corporation. He differs with others who have entertained
 the same thought only in that he sees the time still far off.

The gentleman from Kansas suggests that the democratic idea would be preserved even if congress were reduced to the size of the ordinary board of directors elected by the people, but he cannot dispute the fact that broad representation is
 the essence of democracy,
 even though unwieldy at times.

While a board of directors doubtlessly would prove more efficient than congress
 in managing the nation's business, it is a mistake to think that the change would eliminate all waste, inefficiency and red tape. Large corporations—often notoriously wasteful and efficient in the wrong direction—
 must place the responsibility upon their directors, if congress is responsible for the inefficiency in Washington.
 Moreover, influence, rather than ability, fills the important jobs in big business just as it does in government.

Do not the president and his cabinet constitute a board of directors such as Senator Capper speaks of?
 They are the business heads
 of the federal government,
 although directly answer-
 able to congress and required to execute the orders of congress. It seems that if economy were possible under a board of directors it would be equally possible
 under the present management, especially if the directors owed their jobs to the voters in the sense that congressmen do.

NO SOLUTION?

The plan for separating pedestrian and vehicular traffic outlined at the national conference on housing is something for the builders of new communities to think about, but it brings no aid to those who are struggling with that modern Gordian knot, the prevention of traffic accidents to pedestrians.

Radburn, the model city
 being laid out in New Jersey, will embody the scheme.
 There the street in front of the house will consist of one sidewalk, forcing the vehicles to use the street in the rear. Unusually long blocks and no buildings on cross streets will reduce intersections to a minimum. This brief description indicates the difficulty of adapting to a town or city not planned for it.

While the scheme is interesting and is likely to enter into planning of many future suburban developments,
 it is not what the public is primarily interested in. The great need is for separation of pedestrian and vehicular traffic in congested business sections, but this, it is obvious, is possible only with the expenditure of vast sums for

THIS IS TOO MUCH.

Business and science are leaving few things over which to marvel and be afraid. In the course of improving the world they have all but robbed man of its terrors. What matter if for the old lusty pictures of danger and daring they substitute the "romance" of credit systems and breathtaking figures of interstellar distances and world finances? These things may be fearful in their scope and complexity, but they are not made for ordinary man to wonder at and enjoy.

A patient woman suffered in silence when they said
 warts didn't come from contact with toads, that the "hoop snake" didn't take his tail in his mouth and roll
 like a hoop, and that all great men have most of the qualities of the ordinary individual. But the thing went beyond reason when it was revealed that a circus
 owner can be so prosaic a citizen as a railroad director.

With the discovery that the modern circus owner is hardly distinguishable from the proprietor of a department store, another lavish
 chromo of the imagination
 came down to make room for a neat photograph of machinery. For was not the head of a circus once full of darkness and mystery, a person set apart from the world
 we know by reason of his close association with animal wildness and the whimsies of nature? Was he not some one to whom polished
 boots and black mustaches,
 and a whip and something of a leer were natural? Was he not one to make bitter epigrams about the public and sought throughout the world for freaks and monsters and ran his show like a king in a jungle? No, we now find, he was not. He was a business man who wore regular suits and got to be director of a railroad.

Who can again believe in a circus poster? Who will believe there stands behind that "riot of color" and "aggregation" of unbelievable things such a man as Charles Chaplin saw in "The Circus?"

placing them on different levels. The Radburn plan is not applicable in Corsicana.

Traffic rules and safety
 principles have been of little avail in the prevention of accidents to pedestrians,
 but communities must worry
 along with them for want of something better.

Proving man's ability to hold his own under all conditions, in India last year 1,033 men were killed by tigers, while 1,068 tigers were killed by men.

Jazz bands usually carry a couple of fellows who get up and sing a refrain now
 and then, because the music seems refreshing when they stop.

The community building machine could be made very efficient if the "selfish interests" knock is eliminated.

Mary Garden says she will "tell all" in an autobiography. Is that a threat or a promise?

FLU EPIDEMIC NOW SWEEPING WHOLE COUNTRY

Is Milder Than in 1918, But Emergency Demands For Vaccines Breaks All Records.

The influenza epidemic which broke out late in October on the Pacific coast has spread with startling rapidity until now practically every section of the country is affected.

Although the flu itself is not so serious as in 1918, authorities stress the importance of taking every possible precaution for fear of the complications which invade
 the weakened system after a flu attack.

They urge especially prompt treatment of every cold, as colds lower the body resistance and make it easier for germs of flu or pneumonia to get a foothold.

That the public is heeding this warning is indicated by the phenomenal demand for Vicks Vapo-Rub, which leaped to fame almost overnight during the 1918 epidemic.
 In spite of tripled capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency, and more than 422,000 jars are now being produced every 24 hours.—(adv.)

DAWSON

FORMER INSTRUCTOR OF MUSIC CORSIANA SCHOOLS IS DEAD

MRS. A. H. NEIGHBORS, NEE
PATTIE CASSEDAY, BURIED
IN WACO MONDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. A. H. Neighbors, formerly Miss Pattie Caseday, will be held today at 3 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church. The body arrived in Waco last night from Seguin, where she died Saturday night. Mrs. Neighbors was for a number of years supervisor of the Waco public schools. She was the daughter of W. A. Caseday, one of the pioneer residents of Waco.

Pallbearers will be L. C. Rucker, W. J. Neale, R. F. Gribble, B. E. Cobb, H. J. White, W. S. Morrow, honorary, Dr. J. T. Harrington, Dr. J. C. Eldersbach, Dr. J. W. Hale, Rev. Robert Gribble Woodson White, T. J. Trau, E. E. McAdams, John W. Beade, Jr., Dr. C. E. Collins, Dr. John E. Latimore and R. J. Potts.

Besides her husband, Dr. A. H. Neighbors, who is a physician in Seguin, and one son, Allen, Mrs. Neighbors is survived by her mother, Mrs. Corrine Caseday, 1503 South Eighth street, one sister, Mrs. J. C. Rucker of Lorena, and two brothers, W. A. Caseday of Austin and A. L. Caseday of New York City.—Waco News Tribune.

Mrs. Neighbors, who formerly was music supervisor in the Corsicana public schools, and was well known to many Corsicanans as Miss Pattie Caseday, made her home with Mrs. R. B. Campbell and family while residing here, and the Campbell family Sunday received the message conveying the sad news of her passing. As Miss Pattie Caseday she was a favorite with not only the children of the city schools but adults as well. She was of a sweet and happy disposition, who would drop a silent tear to mingle with those of her loved ones in their sad bereavement.

Teague Woman Makes Money From Chickens

TEAGUE, Feb. 11.—(Spl.)—Mrs. C. L. Kidd of this city has 147 hens of the Tom Barron strain of English White Leghorns. From these she sold 210-12 dozen in January which sold for $102.15. Food cost her $33.60, netting a profit of $68.55 for the month, or over $2.25 per day.

Freestone county has many individuals who are making a success in the poultry business.

WEATHER RETARDS FARM- ING.

TEAGUE, Feb. 11.—(Spl.)—Extreme cold and rainy weather continues to prevail in this section. Inclement weather has caused a temporary cessation in farming activities over Freestone county. Farmers are desiring some pretty weather so that they may get their land ready for early spring planting.

INCOME TAX IN A NUT- SHELL.

Who? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

When? The filing period ends March 15, 1929.

Where? Collector of Internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

How? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040.

What? One and one-half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surplus on net income in excess of $10,000.

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 7.
Under the revenue act of 1928 the maximum amount which may be claimed as earned income to which a credit of 25 per cent applies is increased from $20,000 to $30,000. To claim this credit on the tax due on net income in excess of $5,000, the income must actually be earned by the taxpayer as "wages, salaries, professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services."

The tax on an earned income of $30,000 is computed in the case of a married person, without dependents, as follows:

Net income	$30,000.00
Less personal exemption	3,500.00
Balance taxable	26,500.00
1-12 per cent on first $4,000	60.00
3 per cent tax on second $4,000	120.00
5 per cent tax on remaining $18,500	925.00
Surplus on net income of $30,000	880.00
Total normal and surtax	1,985.00
Less 25 per cent of $1,985, earned income credit	496.25
Balance of tax payable	1,488.75

A taxpayer may have earned during the year a salary of $100,000 or more but the 25 per cent credit applies only to $30,000 of such amount.

School House Near Teague Is Burned

TEAGUE, Feb. 11.—(Spl.)—The Laney School House east of Teague was burned to the ground Friday about noon. The building caught from a fire from an overheated stove. Very little of the fixtures were saved.

The loss was $5,000, about $4,000 of this amount was covered by insurance.

FUNERAL SERVICES SUNDAY AFTERNOON FOR POWELL BANKER

Funeral services for Alfred D. Wilson, aged 61 years, prominent banker and banker of Powell, native Texan, who died at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock following an operation for a ruptured appendix Tuesday, were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Church of Christ with burial in the Prairie Point cemetery near Bazette. The services were conducted by Rev. Clark Cuthbertson of Dallas.

Mr. Wilson was a member of the present Navarro county grand jury.

Surviving are three children, Lloyd Wilson, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank of Ferris; Mrs. E. P. Breithaupt, Powell, Fred Wilson, Mahabank; one brother, Ed Wilson, Bazette, and other relatives.

Following were pallbearers: Christian, S. Z. Burke, Chap Alston, Fitz Kenner, J. N. Edens, J. Y. and Sutherland Undertaking Company had charge of the funeral.

Resolutions Are Passed On Death Member Grand Jury

Saturday afternoon, following word of the death of A. D. Wilson of Powell, member of the grand jury of the district court for the January term, the grand jury passed the following resolutions in connection with the passing of their colleague, and were joined in such resolutions by District Judge Scarborough, County Attorney Davis, Assistant County Attorney Miller and Sheriff Rufus Pevchouse. The resolutions follow:

Be It Resolved: That we the undersigned, members of the grand jury of the district court of Navarro county, Texas, have just learned of the death of one of its members, Mr. A. D. Wilson. Having been associated with Mr. Wilson in this work and observing him as one of our grand jurors, we desire to testify to his rugged honesty, strong character and devotion to his county and its best interests, we feel that the county has lost one of its most valuable citizens, and we wish to express our heartfelt sympathy to his loved ones in their hour of great sorrow.

Be It Further Resolved: That a

Former Hubbard Resident Died in Waco Wednesday

HUBBARD, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Lizzie Barnett, 60, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Oxley at Waco Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held in Waco Wednesday afternoon. The remains were brought to Hubbard where interment was made Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Barnett came to Hubbard in the early 90's from Tennessee but after the death of her husband, J. H. Barnett a few years ago she moved to Waco.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. A. C. Oxley, Mrs. N. W. Barker, and one son, Buford H. Barnett, all of Waco.

copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this grand jury, and that a copy be furnished to the Daily Sun of Corsicana.

This 8th day of February, 1929.

Guy M. Gibson, Walter Beaton, R. L. Jones, H. S. Whorton, J. C. Walker, W. H. Chevening, J. N. Edens, Jr., W. L. Pevchouse, R. C. Clark, M. L. Levine, R. A. Caldwell, members of the grand jury.
H. B. Davis, county attorney; Cleo G. Miller, assistant district attorney; Hawkins Scarborough, district judge; Rufus Pevchouse, sheriff.

Automobiles Met at Street Intersection

Two automobiles collided at the intersection of Beaton and Collin streets Monday morning about 7:30 o'clock but no one was injured.

S. M. Ranford was said to have been driving a Chevrolet and Menora Harvey was driving a Ford coupe. The Ford coupe was considerably damaged, the right rear wheel being smashed and other damages sustained. The Ranford car's bumper was reported broken.

Rheumatism

Treatment That's Different

Rheumatism is one of the most baffling as well as one of the most prevalent and annoying diseases that man is heir to. Its causes are deep in the organic functioning of the system, mysterious and never entirely certain. But experience has proven that a contributing agent is a disordered urinary system. A treatment that reaches the kidneys and bladder will relieve rheumatism. For this end our treatment is designed.

Inabine is Different

1. It is the result of scientific study, observation, experience and demonstration.
2. Its efficiency is attested by thousands of benefited testimonials. We have the sworn testimony.

3. Its prescribed dose is so small, yet powerful, that although the bottle is small, it furnishes full treatment for a month.

4. It is absolutely guaranteed.

Here's Feed for Chicks!

WALK in and let's talk over what to give your chicks to keep them alive and growing. Let us show you a way to raise your chicks to early maturity at a lower cost per chick.

Chicks need cod-liver oil to protect them against leg weakness. They need buttermilk, alfalfa leaf meal, granulated meat, bone meal, wheat germ and other ingredients to make bone, flesh and feathers.

We have all of these ingredients carefully chosen, tested, balanced, uniformly mixed and ready to feed. Purina Chick Starter is the name of the feed. You'll know it by the checkerboard on the bag. The new feeding discoveries that come to you in this year's Starters will give 15 to 20 per cent greater growth than ever before. More than 2,500 hatcheries say, "Feed Starters." So do we. How many bags do you need?

TEN ENTRANTS IN COUNTY TOURNEY; TIME VERY SHORT

CORSICANA HIGH SCHOOL ONLY ENTRANT IN CLASS A SO FAR

With only a few days left in which to send in registration cards to Prof. O. F. Allen, director general of the interscholastic league, for entrance into the Navarro county basketball tournament for boys, the Corsicana high school is the only entrant in class A so far.

Corsicana high school, Embury, I. O. F. Home, Dawson, Long Prairie, Rural Shade, Bloomington, Providence and Pardon are the schools already entered the tournament.

If no more teams enter class A competition, Corsicana high school will win the championship of this division by default. Only two other class A teams exist in the county, Kerens and the State Home. These teams seem to be waiting for the other to enter, as neither one is anxious to be the only competitor of the fast stepping Corsicana Tigers for class A honors.

In the class B department only two strong teams have entered, Providence and Rural Shade. If neither of these teams enter, these two will battle for the championship, unless a great upset is registered during the play.

Three strong class B teams still remain outside of the tournament. They are the Corsicana, Providence and Rural Shade. In all probability these teams will enter in the immediate future as they could ill afford not to compete in the tournament.

Corsicana Umpire Drew Release From Lone Star Circuit

B. A. George of Corsicana, umpire of the Lone Star league a portion of last season, asked for his release as an umpire of the league Sunday and was released by President T. H. Fisher.

Just what George's plans are has not been definitely determined but it is understood that he may apply for the job of handling the indicator in the West Texas league this season.

Umpire Scott who has been in the Lone Star league for several seasons has signed his contract as an umpire in the league.

Lee Ballantyne, Corsicana, veteran umpire of the Lone Star league, may be back this year, but no definite announcement either way has been made.

Teague Hi Develops Good Tennis Players

TEAGUE, Feb. 11.—(Sp.)—The Teague high school is developing a number of good tennis players, in preparation for the coming athletic meet to be held here March 15 and 16. Daily practice is a part of the constant routine. According to Coach Forehand, Doyle McSpadden is showing the greatest likelihood.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN.

Seventeen teams have sent in their registration cards for entrance into the Navarro county interscholastic league basketball tournament for boys to be held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday and Saturday, February 15th and 16th to determine the county champion. Class A and class B, who will play the following Tuesday night for the county championship, Professor O. F. Allen, director general, stated Saturday afternoon.

The following teams have entered: Corsicana, Providence, Navarro, I. O. F. Home, Currie, Pardon, Dawson, Rural Shade, Long Prairie, Embury, Rice, Bryan, Bloomington, State Home, Mertens, Barry, Union high school.

Fifteen of the above mentioned teams as in class B and two in class A. Corsicana high school and State Home will contend for class A honors in the event Kerens fails to enter. The winner of class B will have hard sledding before coming out on top with honors.

Looks like the county tournament for boys will be full of action, especially in the class B department, where several good teams will fight it out for the championship.

Corsicana and Providence are doing well in their respective divisions and meet Tuesday, February 19th, for the county championship. However, you never can tell what is going to happen in tournament play. It seems probable that Providence will be defeated in class A, but Providence is going to have a grand scrap before winning over Rice, Bryan, Rural Shade and Bloomington. Be that as it may, we are going on record as picking Corsicana and Providence.

Splendid referees will officiate in the tournament, both Coach W. F. Foster, coach of Sam Houston Normal, and "Swede" Hardy, veteran player at the same institution, know their basketball. A. Vance, director of athletics, declares.

Let's not forget the county tournament for girls' teams to be held at the Y. M. C. A. March 1 and 2. In the tournament, it looks like several old scores are to be settled, especially between the I. O. F. and Providence Sextettes. Intense rivalry exists between these two teams and has resulted in a number of defeats handed the I. O. F. girls at McGinnis, Providence school, some days ago.

Sixteen players on the State Home football team, winners of district 16 class B championship, are now sporting brand new sweaters awarded them Saturday night by the institution for their services during the past season. These lads are certainly proud of their sweaters and richly deserved the award.

The Texas University Longhorns handed Arkansas their first basketball reverse since the 1927 season when they trounced the long lean sharpshooters from the hills

CORSICANA DREW AWAY FROM VISITORS AFTER CLOSE FIGHT DURING FIRST TWO PERIODS

BY PAUL MOORE, Sun Sports Editor.

After having been fought to a standstill during the first half of the game Friday evening with the Waco Tigers at the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the Corsicana Tiger cagers came back in the second half fighting desperately and drew away from the visitors, turning in their sixth straight victory. The score was Corsicana 33, Waco 17. Despite the inclement and cold weather, the Y gymnasium was packed to capacity.

At the half, the Corsicana defense was leading by only one point, 9-8. At the quarter, the score was tied, 6-6.

Captain Ed Price, center of the Corsicana club, again was high point man of the contest when he netted two free tosses into the basket, the first of which was the victors. Tiger forward, led with eight markers.

Waco started the game with a bang when Tiner looped a basket in the first minute of play and then dropped two free tosses into the basket. Jones, Corsicana forward, looped a field goal and Ed Price made good a couple of free tosses and then before the quarter ended, Price shot a field goal to even the count.

With the beginning of the second period, Cressy looped a basket and immediately Price shot a spectacular field goal to again tie the score. Jones made a free shot for Waco and Elliott, guard for the Tigers, shot a sensational goal from the middle of the court to send the Tigers one point in the lead.

In the third period, Jones and Price looped a pair of field goals each. Price made two free shots and Elliott and Wells made one field goal each and in the final period, Price made six points and Wells three. At the end of the third period, the Tigers of Corsicana were leading 25-11.

Both teams fought bitterly and contested every inch of the way. One thing can be said of the Waco boys, the fighting players from the banks of the Brazos never gave up and were fighting as hard at the end of the game as they were at the beginning. At times the game

CHANGES IN ROOKIE RULE AND OTHER MATTERS DISCUSSED ARDMORE, OKLA., WITHDREW

By PAUL MOORE, Sun Sports Editor.

DALLAS, Feb. 11.—Those members of the Lone Star league that intend to remain in the loop for the 1929 season must have the first $200 of the $1,200 guarantee deposit in the hands of President T. H. Fisher not later than Feb. 20 and failure to do so will be considered as meaning that the club does not intend to operate, it was decided at a meeting of the officials and representatives of the clubs of the circuit held here Sunday afternoon. The rookie rule and the class A rule came in for changes. Another meeting of the magnates will be held in Dallas, Sunday March 24, one month prior to the opening of the season. Ardmore gave definite assurance that that city would not try to join the league this year. Greenville and Lufkin are being considered as probable members.

The meeting was presided over by T. H. Fisher and J. H. Henry, both of Paris, president and secretary, respectively.

All clubs of the league were represented, with the exception of the Dallas Stars, Texas City, and Paris of the old membership reported that they were ready to go and Sherman said that all plans had been perfected there. Corsicana announced that the campaign would be operated as a municipal project, would be held Thursday and Friday of this week.

The spokesman for Sherman stated that the city commission of that city Monday night would vote on the city limits in order that Sunday baseball could be played in Sherman.

President Fisher stated that Lufkin was anxious for a berth in the Lone Star league and that he had been approached by interested officials after the January meeting held in Tyler, but Lufkin was not represented at the meeting here Sunday. President Fisher was instructed by the club owners to make the city limits of Lufkin a condition that all six clubs of the original league make their power to remain in the league that he was empowered to dicker with other cities, Lufkin or Greenville to make the city limits a condition of their membership.

No schedule was adopted at the meeting as the personnel of the league has not been definitely determined.

The rookie rule established at the January meeting in Tyler for each club to carry seven rookies, with a rookie being a man who had not played in the league for more than one year in organized baseball, that is, a rookie in 1928, would be a rookie in 1929, was changed back to the original rookie rule of five "raw rookies." Under the old rule which was voted back, a player is considered a rookie if an infielder or outfielder if he has not been at bat in organized baseball more than 80 times and if a pitcher if he has not pitched more than 45 innings. A rule was also passed which provided that the rookie rule of the league could not be changed without the unanimous consent of all clubs of the league.

The old rule for class men was changed from 150 times and pitchers pitching in 90 innings for all of their experience to the above-mentioned requirements for one year. The rule provided for one class B and two other class men in B or C.

President Fisher stated emphatically that the rules on rookies, etc., was going to be rigidly enforced during the approaching season and that if any club was found violating the rules, the heaviest penalties would be inflicted and the games forfeited.

The league will meet in Dallas on Sunday, March 24, to adopt a schedule for the season and to elect the $1,000 of the guarantee from each club will be due.

The game was fast and marked by hard guarding exhibitions turned in by both teams.

Wortham Defeated College Basketeers

MEXIA, Feb. 11.—(Sp.)—Wortham high school, winners of the Freestone county basketball tournament, defeated Westminster College Basketeers at the Mexia gymnasium floor 21 to 21 Wednesday night. Travecek for Wortham and Kelly for the college were outstanding players.

MEXIA WILL ATTEND. MEXIA, Feb. 8.—(Sp.)—Mexia will be represented at the meeting of the Lone Star League in Dallas Sunday, but it is still uncertain whether Mexia will be in the circuit this season. Although drawing one of the best lads in the league, Mexia lost more than $500 last year, which sale of players failed to make up.

Efforts are being made to find a sponsor for Mexia participation in the league. Mexia has been in organized baseball with the exception of the war period for 15 years. Expenses of operating the club, however, have mounted steadily.

RILEY AND GORDON WON BOUTS FRIDAY EVENING AT NAT

SMALL CROWD SHIVERED THROUGH FISTIC CARD FRIDAY NIGHT

Mickey Riley, the "Singing" dancing and fighting fool, made short work of Perry Jones, scrapper from Boston, Mass., knocking him out in the first ten seconds of the first round. Riley, a strapping, well-chinned, in the main event of the boxing exhibition staged at the Natatorium Friday night which was witnessed by a small, shivering crowd of rabid fight fans.

In the semi-final combat between Johnny Gordon, local, welder of the mill, and Joe Garcia of Kansas City, Gordon was awarded a technical knockout in the third round of their six-round bout when Garcia's second pitched a towel into the ring calling off hostilities. After the first round in which both scrappers were battered up considerably and honours about even, Johnny began raining rights and lefts to the head and had Garcia down at the end of the second round. Gordon had Garcia down again in the first few seconds of the third round when Garcia pitched in a towel, awarding the decision to Gordon. This scrap was one of the best seen in Corsicana boxing circles, furious from the opening bell.

Albert Lopez, Mexican scrapper from Waco, knocked out Kid Manuel, Mexican brawler of Dallas, in the third round of a scheduled four round bout in the last of the preliminaries.

Kid Choice, local negro brawler, knocked out Lora Woodruff, negro scrapper, also of Corsicana, in the second round with a flurry of rights and lefts to the head which did considerable damage and caused Woodruff to yell "that enough" and sit down to be counted out.

In the first preliminary, Claude Petty, negro boxer, disposed of Melvin Glenn, local negro scrapper, in the second round via the knockout route.

A spirited negro battle royal opened the evening program of fights.

FRANCIS SCHMIDT, ARKANSAS COACH GOES TO T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 8.—(Sp.)—Athletic officials of Texas Christian university announced here today that Francis A. Schmidt, coach at the University of Arkansas, has accepted the position of head athletic coach at Texas Christian university.

The vacancy was created by the resignation of Madison Bell, who became football coach at Texas A. and M. college.

"We are happy to announce," said Athletic Director L. C. Wright, "that Mr. Schmidt has accepted the position left vacant by the resignation of Madison Bell."

"After the rumors got into the newspapers, I got in touch with Schmidt over a long distance telephone, talked the matter over, and he decided to go ahead and announce his acceptance. He had already made up his mind, but had wished to hold back the announcement until after Saturday."

Schmidt will visit Fort Worth in the near future, probably early next week, sign a contract, and make other final arrangements.

Details have not been worked out but it is regarded as highly probable that Schmidt will leave the University of Arkansas and accept the position of head athletic coach at Texas Christian university.

Football Feed Given Lads At Home Saturday

By BOB HALE

At the annual football banquet of the State Home high school held Saturday night, sixteen members of the State Home Lads, class B champions of district 14, were awarded sweaters for their services rendered to the team during the past season.

The presentation of sweaters was made by Coach D. L. Fletcher, who made a short talk about each player before presenting him his sweater. Coach Fletcher was also presented a sweater by the team.

Other speakers for the evening were Alton Mullins, president of the student body; Joel C. Trimble, bandmaster; and Walter Baker, a player, whose subject was "The Booster as the Team Spirit." The speaker who gave a toast to the pep squad.

Players receiving awards were: John McDaniel, Frank Hayes, Benie Griffith, Ben Williams, Ernest Mader, Willie Hensley, Walter Baker, L. V. Ragsdale, Otis Davenport, E. C. McKeefe, L. V. Knott, Fred Doyle, Alton Bennett, Bowman Knott, O. J. Baker, and John Allen Sheppard.

MEXIA CAGE SWEATERS. MEXIA, Feb. 8.—(Sp.)—Seven Mexia high school lads won letters and will be awarded sweaters for their work in basketball this year. They are: F. H. Thompson, L. P. Mackey, Jimmy Davis, R. Coleland, De Priest, Boswell and S. Davis.

MEXIA CAPTAINS. MEXIA, Feb. 8.—(Sp.)—Wayne Laird and Tommy Kubiak have been elected field and track captains, respectively, of the Mexia high school teams. Both are let-termen.

PRICE AND WELLS LED SCORERS IN FINAL GAME HERE PRIOR TO NAVARRO COUNTY TOURNEY

By PAUL MOORE, Sun Sports Editor.

Completely outclassing the Hillsboro Eagles in all departments of the game, the Corsicana Tigers, undefeated this year, turned in their seventh consecutive victory Saturday night by smothering the Hillsboro Eagles under a 45-10 score at the Y. M. C. A. court before a fair-sized crowd. At the half, the Tigers were leading, 15-5, and with the beginning of the second half, their margin steadily increased. As has been the case of about six of the seven games, Captain Ed Price, center, was the high point man of the evening when he made 24 points in three quarters of playing. Glen Wells forward, who played center a portion of the game, was second scorer when he made 14 points.

The game Saturday night wound up the pre-tournament season for the Tigers and next week will likely participate in the Navarro county A and B championship for the right to represent Navarro county in district 11, University of Texas interscholastic league, tournament to be held, Feb. 22-23, at the Trinity university gymnasium at Waco.

The Corsicana team ran roughshod over the Hillsboro capital boys, the club which early in the season defeated the Waco Tigers, but from the performance of the two clubs, here last week-end, there is no comparison in the strength of the two clubs, Waco having easily the better defense and offense.

Both sides were frequently penalized by Referee Prof. Allen, with Hillsboro getting nine personal fouls assessed and Corsicana being penalized only three.

Both clubs had considerable difficulty in holding the ball during the early portion of the combat and the game was marred considerably

by the inability of the receivers to hold the elusive ball.

At the first period, Corsicana was leading 9-4, at the end of the third quarter, Corsicana was leading 35-8.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR $5,000 BASEBALL CAMPAIGN HERE THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Thursday and Friday of this week, the baseball committees will make their campaign for the raising of $5,000 to operate the club as a municipal project as has been the case in the other cities of the league each year. The campaign is to be conducted by the Chamber of Commerce, Y. M. C. A. and other campaigns and an intensive campaign is to be carried out.

The issue is squarely up to the citizens of Corsicana. Corsicana is one of the oldest and best known baseball towns in this section of the state, remains in the league this season. Corsicana has been a baseball town since the early part of the century and it would be a black eye for Corsicana to drop out of a class D league.

Indications are that the league will be an eight-club affair this year and Lufkin or Greenville may be added.

The owners of the Corsicana Oilers, which have furnished the local citizens with baseball for several years has lost heavily and do not think that they should bear the losses further. This will be the first time that the citizenship of Corsicana has been asked to finance the ball club since the 1923 season.

Baseball during the summer time furnishes a form of recreation for hundreds of fans who are not financially able to go to the city to Dallas and Waco to see Texas league games. During the dull summer, a city does not seem nearly so dull when there are baseball games to entertain.

Monies Spent Here. Practically all of the money paid to ball players in salaries is spent in the city and when the club is up in the running, many out of town fans attend games and spend money in Corsicana. Many of the fans come to town and see the game and the wives shop while the husbands are at the game if the wives happen not to be baseball fans.

Corsicana has one of the best records and heritages in baseball and was winning championships in the Texas league more than a quarter of a century ago. Records made by the 1902 club are still standing and from all indications, will never be surpassed.

Corsicana has always been considered the backbone of the leagues in which it has participated. It is the club-owners and officials of the Lone Star league stated at the meeting held in Dallas Sunday, there was no doubt in their minds about Corsicana not being ready to go when the time comes.

Interest Waned. Cellular clubs during the last several years have caused interest and enthusiasm to lag in Corsicana after having a couple of championship clubs, but this is another year and with a new regime, interest should be increased considerably, especially due to the fact that the Corsicana Stars of the Texas league will hold their spring training camp here. Dallas will leave Municipal

Club This Season. Several rookies have been secured for trials with the Corsicana Oilers of the Lone Star league this spring, and a number of others will be tried out when the spring training camp is opened.

Several Navarero county boys will receive trial with the Oilers including Harper, infielder, Chatfield, Johnson, pitcher, Chatfield, and J. C. Barrow, Streetman, outfielder.

EASTLAND EDITOR EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE FOOTBALL SITUATION

(Editor's Note.—The writer of this discussion on Texas high school football is editor of the Eastland Telegram, former editor of the Cisco News, and former staff correspondent of the Fort Worth Record. He probably sees more high school football games than any other man in Texas, for the past five years averaging 30 games a season.)

By BOYCE HOUSE. Texas high school football is facing a crisis.

Another season marred by such situations as the one recently closed and the sport will have lost its fascination for thousands of fans. The enthusiasm has grown year by year, until 1928 when the innumerable protests, arbitrary decisions and endless uncertainty resulted in a sharp decline in attendance—an indisputable proof that something is wrong.

Let us review briefly some of the developments.

As a starting point, consider Cleburne. Seaman Squires, fullback, was protested. The district committee ruled that he was eligible. After Cleburne had won its way to the state semi-finals, the state committee ruled that the triple threat star was ineligible.

He could not have been both eligible and ineligible. Either he was one or the other.

If he was ineligible, then a grave injustice was done to the Corsicana Tigers, whose game with Cleburne was played at the hands of Cleburne, led by the renowned Squires. If he was ineligible, he should have been so ruled and in time, the Corsicana would have represented the district.

On the other hand, if Squires was eligible, then a grave injustice was done to Cleburne whose team was not allowed to play. The state committee ruled that Squires was ineligible. The man in the street might wonder why the rules are not written so plainly that superintendents could understand them without an interpretation from Austin.

A further angle on the Squires case is that it was not decided by the state committee until the afternoon before the game with Abilene. Coach Parker, so we are informed, had to be in Austin to represent Cleburne and therefore he could not be with his team on the morning of the game. Furthermore, if the state committee had ruled sooner, Parker would have known he was to be without Squires and would have had a few days in which to plan his strategy accordingly.

Rape State Committee. But that isn't all. The state committee voted to change the rules. Any capable of understanding the English language knows that the rule book says that if a district committee certifies as district champion a team that is ineligible and mind you, one ineligible is enough to make the team ineligible of course—the state committee shall rule the team out and deprive the district of representation in the inter-district games for the state title. The state committee ruled Squires out but did not rule Cleburne out.

This case is gone into at considerable length—not for the purpose of assailing the motives of anyone, but to show the unsatisfactory manner in which the interscholastic league is conducted.

The state committee waited until the day before the Cleburne-Abilene game to rule on Squires. If that wasn't bad enough, how about the case of Murff, Marshall star, who was ruled eligible a week after Port Arthur had eliminated Marshall? Due to the slowness of the state committee, a delicate dilemma confronted Marshall. Not to play Murff might mean that Marshall victory would be thrown out.

Other Protests. Amarillo underwent a protest almost on the very eve of the quarter final game with Abilene. Walker, backfield ace, was under fire. He was ruled eligible but, even so, it cannot be denied that a team harassed by protests is likely to have its ardor dampened. Had no disturbing protest been lodged, Amarillo's wonderful victory might have fallen a few scant points short of victory.

Athens, with unofficial victories over Corsicana and Sunset, ranked as one of the greatest teams in the state. But when they were ruled out, a member of the state committee "interpreted" the rule for the district committee. The man in the street might wonder why the rules are not written so plainly that superintendents could understand them without an interpretation from Austin.

Fans Are Disgusted. The Abilene-Cleburne semi-finals game drew 1,500 fewer spectators than the Cisco-Ranger game played over.

ELIMINATION OF CLAUSE IN BUS LAW WAS NOT FAVORED

SENATE COMMITTEE ON STATE AFFAIRS REPORTED
BILL UNFAVORABLY

AT SALT, FEB. 2, 1934.—The senate committee on public lands today was ready to report unfavorably today on the Miller-Wirtz bill to eliminate the certificates of necessity and the convenience clause of the motor vehicle law.

The committee voted an unfavorable report last night. Senators Parr and Miller gave notice of a minority report.

At Sulphur, Sulphur Springs attorney, said the present laws conserved the public roads as it reduced the number of bugs to a minimum. Hanger, Sulphur Springs attorney, said that the Miller-Wirtz attorney for West Texas Coaches, said the convenience and necessity clause was the only thing which protected the capital

Miller declared the convenience and necessity certificates had given three or four large companies control of a majority of the bus lines in the state.

GENTRY ATTENDED SILVER ANNIVERSARY EXTENSION SERVICE

Henry Gentry, Corsicana county farm demonstrator, returned Thursday from the silver anniversary meeting of the extension service of the United States department of agriculture, held in Houston during the past several days.

While attending the meeting, Mr. Gentry attended the special sessions on agronomy and animal husbandry, meeting representatives from many states and exchanging ideas and methods.

Others who attended the meeting were Mrs. Gentry, and Miss Mattie Wiley, county demonstration agent.

COMMITTEE NAMED COUNT VOTES FOR CHAMBER ELECTION

To count ballots in the annual election of directors of the chamber of commerce, President C. L. Jeter named today Senator J. H. Woods, Robert C. Sizemore and N. S. Roberts as a tally committee. Hailed ballots are now in the hands of members of the chamber and must be returned by next Tuesday at noon for the official count. The ballots will be turned over to the tally committee Tuesday afternoon. Announcement of the seven directors elected will probably be made on next Wednesday.

SCHOOL RESUMED AT EMHOUSE FRIDAY FOLLOWING FIRE

The temporary school building at Emhouse has been completed and school was resumed Friday. Andrew G. Steele, county superintendent, announced Saturday morning. Bids and supplies from the county superintendent's office were sent out early Friday morning. Officials of the school stated that the attendance Friday morning was eight-fifty percent normal.

The brick school building at Emhouse was destroyed by fire last week. The fire is thought to have been caused by a leaking gas pipe in the building. The loss was estimated at $25,000 with insurance in the sum of $15,000. Plans are going forward in the Emhouse consolidated school district for the calling of an election to determine whether bonds in the sum of $40,000 shall be issued to build a modern, fire-proof building, and the election is expected to be called within the immediate future.

POWELL MAN DIED IN LOCAL HOSPITAL FUNERAL SUNDAY

A. D. Wilson, aged 62, of Powell, died at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic Saturday morning about 11:45 following an operation last Tuesday. Funeral services will be held from the Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at 1:30 with Rev. Clark Cuthbertson of Dallas conducting the services. Interment will be in the Prairie Point cemetery near Bazette.

The deceased is survived by one brother, Ed Wilson of Bazette, and three children, Lloyd Wilson of Ferris, Mrs. E. P. Prethaupt of Powell, and Fred Wilson of Maabank. Mr. Wilson was a member of the present grand jury for the January term of the Thirteenth Judicial district court now in session.

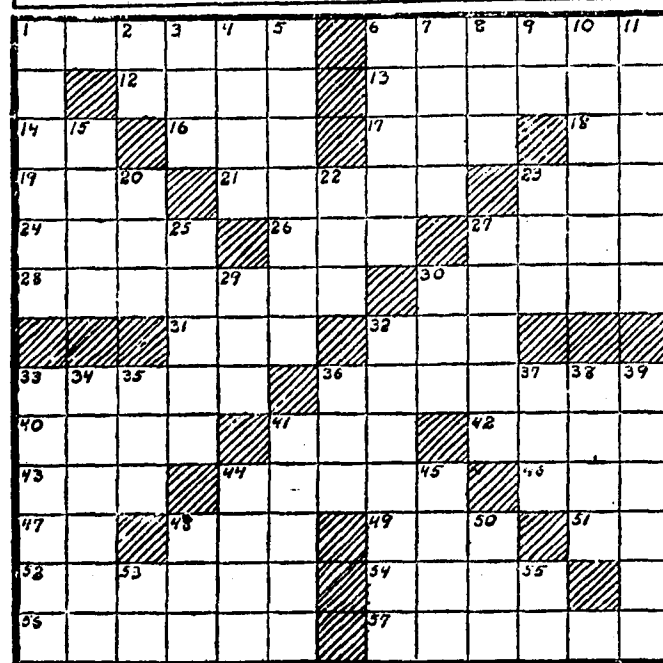

Contract Let For Home Foundation By Lowell Estes

Contract for the foundation of the L. R. Estes home has been awarded to J. E. Metcalf & Son, contractors, and work will start within a few days. The new home will be located at the corner of West Third street and North Twenty-third street, and will be of Spanish type of architecture. The final plans of the home are now being prepared by M. T. Horne.

BUILDING OUTLOOK FOR CORSICANA IS GOOD DURING 1929

NUMEROUS HOMES, BUSINESS HOUSES AND OTHER PROJ- ECTS IN SIGHT

Thus early in 1929 the building outlook for the year gives promise of surpassing the record for several years past, with both residential and business buildings as well as municipal projects that will keep a large force busy many days. Some of the projected residences are handsome and will cost considerable money, while several business structures are expected to be completed during the year that will add considerably to the sum total of the local building projects.

At least three and probably four handsome new homes will be erected in Mills Place during the year. The new home of Mrs. A. A. Wortham is at present under construction on the Second avenue end of Mills Place, the structure to face east and it will be of brick veneer and in keeping with the handsome homes in that exclusive addition. J. E. Metcalf & Son are the contractors and H. O. Blanding is architect. The homes of Lowry Martin and Francis B. McKie are expected to be started soon, as plans are about completed for both these homes. Another home may be started in the near future, but definite announcement has not yet been made.

Two Other Homes.

A handsome English type of cottage, brick veneer, is rapidly nearing completion for Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hill on West second street, in the 1400 block. This will be a two story house, with a pretty home. Burkhardt & McMullen have the contract for this home. Another pretty home in the same block on Third avenue will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Estes, a handsome Spanish type of home to be erected by them on the south side of the 1400 block on Third. Foundation contract has been let to E. Metcalf & Son. The contract for the house itself has not yet been let. M. T. Horns is drawing plans for this home.

There are numerous smaller homes being constructed and plans and additions to other in contemplation for the early spring and summer.

Remodeling of the two brick buildings at the corner of Beaton street and Fourth avenue owned by W. F. and H. C. Kennemer of Dallas. It is understood this building will be an attractive design and will be the in-ardent type. The project is to cost around $30,000. The contract is to be let Tuesday.

Fred M. Allison is having the old building at the corner of Beaton street and Second avenue razed and will construct there a modern building, station and garage. Also on the lot adjoining which is occupied by the last of the old-time wagon yards in Corsicana, it is planned to erect a modern vegetable and produce market place. Plans for this nature of the Allison improvements, however, have not been completely worked out. Tom Story has the contract for this work and H. O. Blanding is the architect.

New Ice Plant.

A new and modern ice plant will be erected at the corner of Twelfth street and Fourth avenue by W. F. and H. C. Kennemer of Dallas. It is understood this building will be an attractive design and will be the in-ardent type. The project is to cost around $30,000. The contract is to be let Tuesday.

Also on the lot adjoining which is occupied by the last of the old-time wagon yards in Corsicana, it is planned to erect a modern vegetable and produce market place. Plans for this nature of the Allison improvements, however, have not been completely worked out. Tom Story has the contract for this work and H. O. Blanding is the architect.

State Home Building.

Work is going forward rapidly on the two large buildings at the State Orphans Home. The large mess hall, which covers a space of about 100 feet each way is nearing completion, so far as the brick and concrete work is concerned. This building will be only one story high at present, but plans call for the addition of a second story to be used for other purposes following sufficient legislative appropriation. The new high school building at the home is going up rapidly, the brick work having reached the second floor stage. This will be a modern school building in every respect when completed and will aid materially in relieving the congested conditions at the home.

The basement work on the post-office addition has been practically completed and the large steel frame placed for the first floor. The bad weather has hampered work on this $30,000 building, but with the return of warm weather construction is expected to move rapidly, as a full force of workmen in all lines is employed.

SIDI WIRT SPRECKLES' MAY BE QUESTIONED ON MANNER REPATRIATION AS AMERICAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—(U) An interview, given here by Prince Saud Chakir, grandson of the late Sultan of Turkey, threatened today to cause an inquiry into the procedure by which his estranged wife, the former Sidi Wirt Spreckles, regained her United States citizenship last week.

Prince Chakir who declared he had been "disillusioned, hurt and disgusted," said he had come to "a parting of the ways" with his American born consort, and that he would return to Turkey and obtain a divorce. Disputes from Turkey several months ago said divorce proceedings had been instituted by the prince and it had been understood here that a decree had been issued.

The Turkish nobleman, who said he was here on business and that he would not see his wife, hinted that her repatriation had not been legal because she had entered this country on a visitor's permit. He said he believed it was necessary for an alien visitor to enter under the immigration quota to obtain ed on this job. This building is one of the most massive in construction yet erected here. The extension and replacing of the city water mains over a large part of the west part of Corsicana is proceeding with dispatch when the end of the present city employed in this work and in the construction of the big steel high pressure tank being erected on the city's property just west of the High School building. When this work is completed every part of Corsicana will have modern water facilities and excellent pressure.

The work of paving the five or six blocks on West Second avenue between the end of the present city pavement and the State Home concrete road is expected to be started at an early date. The city and county and abutting property owners will pay the cost and it will cost several thousand dollars and besides giving a paved road all the way to the State and Odd Fellows Homes, will give employment to a large number of workmen.

Among other projects that are expected to materialize at an early date are the construction of a large mercantile building on a close in business lot and the construction of at least two filling stations by the Magnolia Petroleum Company, the property at the corner of Twenty-fourth street and Fourth avenue having been secured from J. Frank Williams and the old George T. Jester corner of Seventh and Fifteenth street having been purchased for this purpose, it is said. It is also rumored that this same company is negotiating for the construction of filling stations. The stations erected by this oil company are always handsome, complete and kept clean and inviting.

There are numerous other building projects that are not in the embryo period that are expected to become realities during the year and as stated at the outset of this article, the 1929 building activities in and around Corsicana are promising a record for recent years.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels worms and pin worms from children will do the same for adults. White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at Lee Drug Company.

COLD WEATHER CUT INTO SUNDAY SCHOOL OF FIRST METHODIST

INTERESTING FEATURES FOR THIS WEEK OUTLINED IN BULLETIN

The following events for the week were noted in the church bulletin of the First Methodist church Sunday: Monday night at 7:30 in the Educational building, regular monthly meeting of the Board of Stewards; Tuesday night at 7:15 in the Educational building, regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's Luncheon Club; Wednesday night at 7:15 Educational building, fourth study series of Missions, and regular choir practice Thursday night.

At the meeting Monday night J. L. Halbert, chairman of the board is anxious for all stewards to present. At the Luncheon Tuesday night all men of the church and their friends are urged to attend. President C. T. Banister has arranged a fine program, the principal speaker will be W. H. Potts, a business man of Dallas, who will devote part of his talk to fun and the balance to an inspirational talk.

Dean Jennings of S. M. U. says Mr. Potts: "Mr. Potts is a real after dinner speaker." The Violin Choir composed of young girl musicians will furnish the music, with several solo numbers. The bitter cold of Sunday morning cut into all attendance figures but all programs were carried out as scheduled with much interest. In Sunday school the attendance was 304, last Sunday 472 and Sunday one year ago 689. In the adult department the attendance was only 68 while in the Weller Bible class the attendance was 28 compared with 37 last Sunday and 27 one year ago.

In the adult department A. A. Allison, superintendent, presided; Mrs. F. P. Culver presided at the piano. Rev. W. Kinchele led in prayer and three minutes talks were made by J. L. Halbert, Mrs. George T. Jester and W. A. Tarver on the aims of the Sunday school teacher. On next Sunday pupils of the various classes will tell what the pupils like and expects of the teachers.

In the Weller Bible class, the class was taught by Beauford Jester, S. H. King and Dr. O. L. Smith. The class was held in the evening at the home of Mr. Jester to represent the Weller Bible class in the opening exercises in the adult department on next Sunday morning. At the morning church hour, the choir sang an anthem, "Give Thanks Unto the Lord" by Rogers; C. T. Banister made a talk in connection with the Men's Luncheon Club Tuesday night, and Rev. A.

World Tourists Give Anniversary Dinner; Corsicanan Is Guest

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Feb. 11.—(Sp.)—An interesting social event on board the world cruiser "Belgenland" on Saturday evening (January 19th) when the ship was approaching Yokohama, was a dinner for twelve covers given by Mr. and Mrs. John Van Houten, of Raton, New Mexico, on the occasion of the thirty-third anniversary of their marriage.

A native of Holland, Mr. Van Houten has made the United States his home for many years. He is well known to the Southwest as a successful coal mine operator. Mrs. V. n Houten is a native of Kansas.

The dinner was held in the ship's Japanese dining room. The table had been tastefully decorated with Parisian novelties as favors, and at each place was an ornate menu card, 9 by 14 inches, embellished with a reproduction of an elaborate copper plate engraving executed in the year 1691, the original of which is preserved in the Plantin Museum of Printing at Antwerp. Around an oval, in which were printed the dinner bill, were shown Cupids, and on the left symbols of fame, love and plenty, the latter in the form of fruits, flowers and grain. On the right were symbols of war, with armor, cannon and a battle torch, all in the opulent style of illustration current three centuries ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Houten's guests of the evening were Mrs. H. M. d'Silva of Los Angeles, Mrs. James D. Fessenden of New York, Mrs. James Macfarlane of Denver, Mrs. C. H. Oatman of San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Noyes of Philadelphia, Miss May Richards of Philadelphia, Mr. E. I. Crockett of Pueblo, Colorado, Mr. C. C. Cunningham of Dallas, Texas, and Mr. E. J. Stackpole, proprietor of the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, "Telegraph."

W. Hall, presiding elder, preached his regular quarterly sermon.

Rev. Mr. Hall made a plea for the child, saying that all children were born into the Kingdom of God and that it was up to the parents to keep them in the Kingdom. He said that as babies and others were born into the Church that was up to the Church to keep them in the Church.

In the afternoon Lawrence Fauber, who is organizing a Sunday School orchestra, held his first meeting of organization and rehearsals.

At the church services Sunday night the choir sang an anthem, "O Lord of Hosts" by Heyer, and the sermon was delivered by Rev. Tadao Aiuma, a student of S. M. U., a Japanese of Christian faith who preached on the subject, "What Christianity Has Done for My Country."

Reserve Banks Take Action On Brokers' Loan

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(U)—Three federal reserve banks, those at Minneapolis, Dallas and Kansas City, are reported to have taken steps to compel member banks in those districts to withdraw loans made on call in the New York market if they wish to use their rediscount privileges. Other banks are expected to take similar action in an attempt to carry out the federal reserve policy against speculative loans.

Walsh Refuses Comment.

DALLAS, Feb. 11.—(U)—Colonel C. C. Walsh, federal reserve agent for the Eleventh District, refused to comment on reports that the Dallas, Minneapolis and Kansas City banks had taken steps to compel member banks to withdraw loans made on call in the New York market.

"We have nothing to say at this time," Colonel Walsh declared.

ATTENDANCE UPON SUNDAY SERVICES IS CUT BY WEATHER

CROWDS AT SUNDAY SCHOOL AND MORNING SERVICE AT BAPTIST CURTAILED

The weather evidently kept many away from Sunday school and the morning service at the First Baptist church Sunday when only 338 attended Sunday school and only a fair sized congregation was present to hear the pastor, J. Howard Williams, preach on "Moses and Pharaoh" at the morning service.

The congregation was almost as large as usual at the evening service when the pastor preached the second of a series of four sermons on "The Lives of Great Men." His subject was "Abraham Lincoln." Next Sunday night, the subject will be "George Washington," it was announced.

A ten-piece orchestra played two numbers as a prelude to the song service at 7:30 and after a number of old familiar hymns which the congregation entered into the singing of heartily, the large Chorus Choir sang an anthem "Ye That

Fear the Lord with Mrs. J. C. West and Dow Mooney taking the solo parts.

J. E. Metcalf, Jr. and Mr. Mooney played a marimbaphone duet as an offertory and then Mr. Metcalf played his unique musical instrument, the Vibraphone, which was enjoyed by everyone. Miss Sue Robinson accompanied Mr. Metcalf at the piano.

HOME CONDITIONS DEPOSED

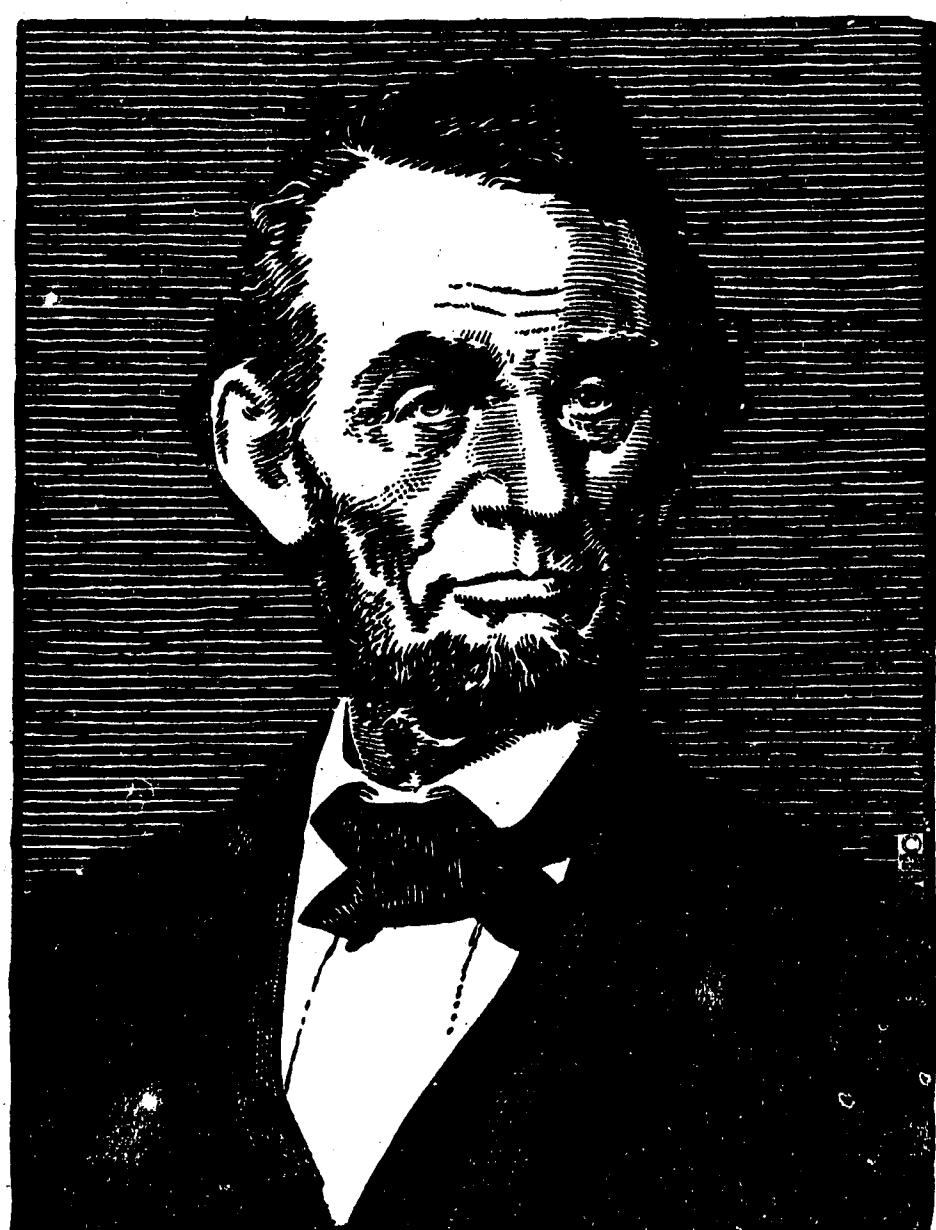

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(U)—A committee of the federal council of Churches of Christ in America, reporting on the "present unsettled condition of the home," deplores companionate marriages, easy divorces, clergymen who marry divorced persons and runaway couples without due caution, and low wage scales which force mothers into industry. The Russell Sage Foundation has found that there are 57 "marriage market towns" in 29 states.
